

Sriju Learns the Power of Unity

Everyone had ideas... but nothing was getting done.

Why does working together feel harder than working alone?

When confusion grows, guidance appears.

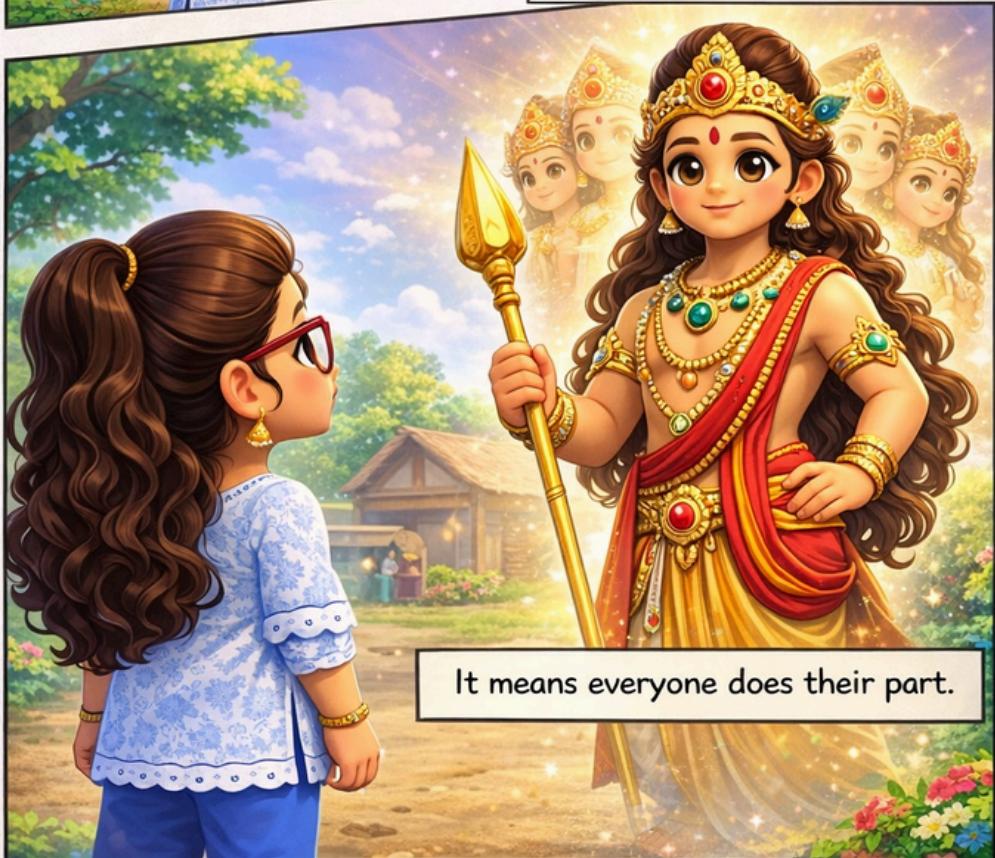

Muruga... everyone wants to help, but we're not united.

Unity doesn't mean everyone does the same thing, child.

Murugan showed Sriju the power of many strengths working as one.

Murugan showed Sriju the power of many strengths working as one.

One sees the goal.

Another plans the path.

One gives skill.

One gives courage.

So... every face matters.

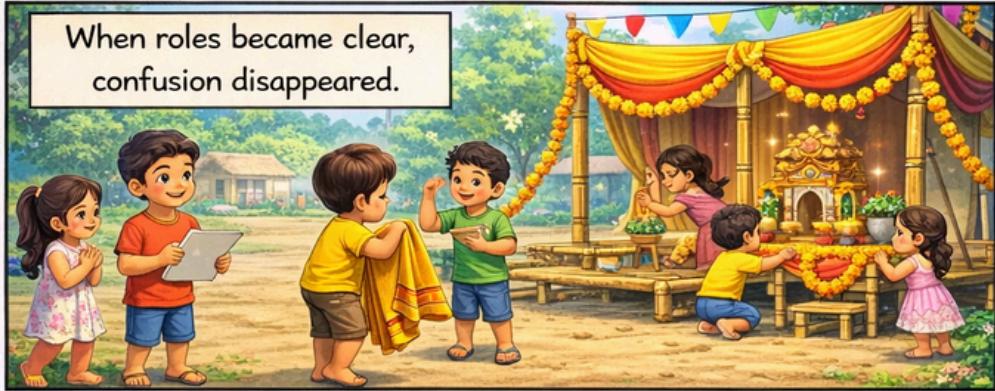

One brings harmony.

You plan. You build. You decorate.
You guide. We'll finish faster—together!

When roles became clear,
confusion disappeared.

Hey, this actually works!

Murugan smiled, pleased with Sriju's understanding.

Leadership isn't doing everything...
it's bringing everyone together.
