

Sriju and the Miracle of Sharing

SRIJU AND THE GIFT OF GRATITUDE

Food shared with love creates bonds.

One day in the office cafeteria, Sriju entered with her bag, smiling but visibly tired.

When she opened her lunchbox, it was empty. She realized she forgot to pack food.

She spotted a shy new intern with just a tiny snack packet.

Come, we'll figure something out. Let's share whatever we have.

They split the tiny snack. Behind them, a soft golden sparkle began to shimmer—unseen.

