

Little Krishna's Secret of Kindness

A Story of Forgiveness and Love

Do you know, Srujan...

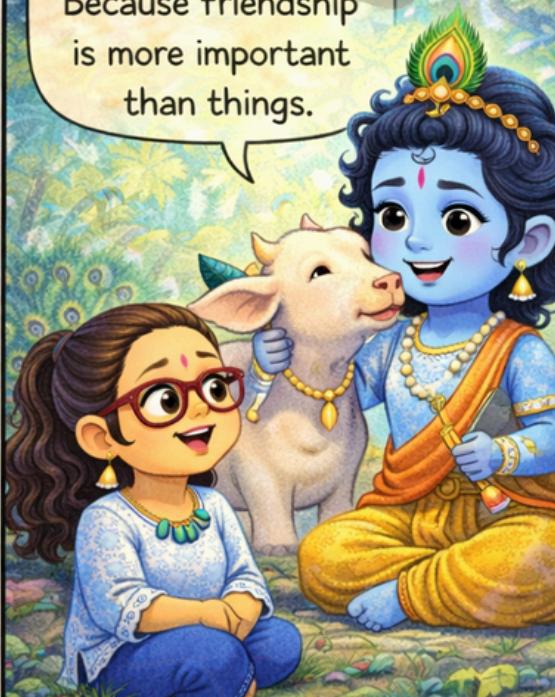

When I was young, my friends broke my pots, spilled my butter, and played tricks on me.

Really?!
What did you do?

I forgave them.
Because friendship
is more important than things.

Things can be replaced...
but love, kindness,
and family cannot.

If you forgive, your heart feels light like this feather.

I think...
I understand.

Good. Then share your smile with your brother. That is the greatest gift.

Krishna's feather...

Didi... I'm sorry. I didn't mean to break your pen.

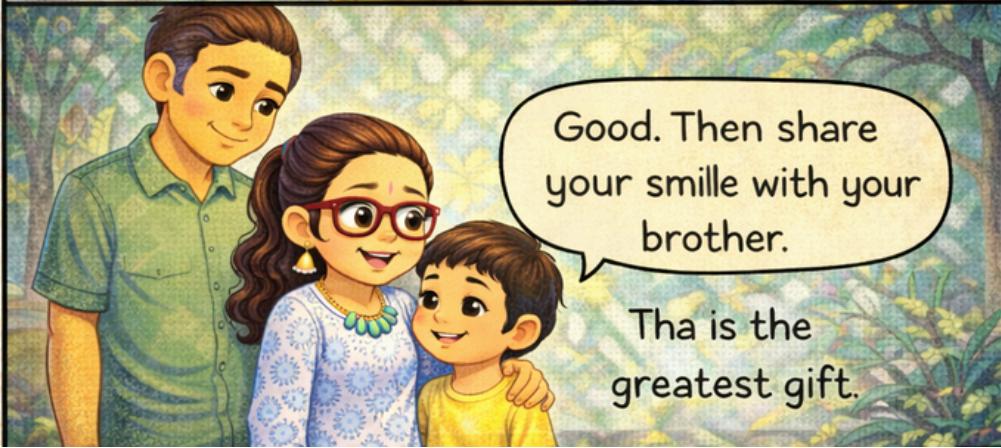

It's okay.
I forgive you.

Good. Then share your smile with your brother.

That is the greatest gift.

Forgiveness is stronger than anger.

Love is more precious than things.

A Sriju Comic

Curiosity Lives Here!

Stories that smile back at you