Episode 2: Kurma – Staying Steady

When the world rushes... who keeps it balanced?

Why is everyone in such a hurry?

Hurry up!

Finish fast!

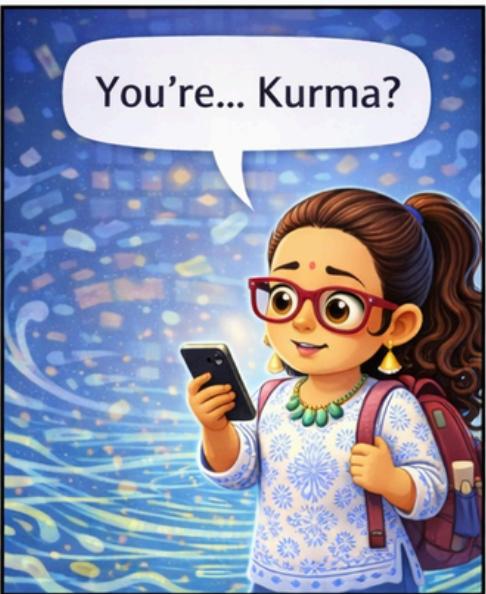

Next task!

Slow down, Sriju.

You're... Kurma?

I hold things steady
when they move too fast.

But everyone says faster is better.

Balance matters
more than speed.

I carry the weight...
so others can move.

You don't rush at all...
yet everything feels stable.

So being steady
is also important?

Without support,
speed means nothing.

I don't need to do everything at once.

Steady steps last longer.
