

Sriju Meets the Dashavatar

Ancient Powers, Modern Problems

Episode 9: Buddha – Choose Compassion

When is power used for good?

A soft, golden light surrounded the stranger...

....and his simple clothes
transformed into a serenely glowing form.

....and his simple clothes
transformed into a serene, glowing form.

I am Buddha.
I came to remind the world... to wake up.

Peace is not taught by force...
but by awareness.

Thank you for teaching us to pause.

Carry calm
wherever you go.

As Buddha faded into light...

...the lotus remained.

Sriju walked out into the peaceful village.

Sriju walked out into the peaceful village.

Let's pause first.

Sriju gently stopped a small argument.

When we slow down...
the world feels better.

MORAL:

Peace begins when we pause,
listen, and choose kindness.

A Srijū Comic

Curiosity Lives Here!

Stories that smile back at you